All people are urged to send in their dodeliver them in person to the headquarters of Trade building so the time and strength of the solicitors may be saved. The time is short now and the close of the campaign will be so exciting that it will be a difficult matter to call upon everyone. Those who have carriages and automobiles not in use are urged to place them at the dispossi next week of the association.

The work of the ten teams of wageearning women is the feature of the campaign. The rivalry between the teams, friendly, is intense and next week some interesting moves are looked for from the teams which are at the bottom now. The move of Mass Larsen's team was the feature of the week, and Miss Paxson's team also moved up one place yes. terday to the surprise of the other teams. Miss Crandall; who has been ill for over a week, hopes to be out next week to enthuse her team into renewed activity.

Week Brings Featureless Market to the Local Jobbers.

VOLUME OF BUSINESS HAS BEEN FAIR

Country Dealers Report Improved Trade Since Roads Began Drying -Implement Men Filling Second Orders-Advance in Cotton.

The week has been quite featureless with the Omaha jobbers. Trade has been fairly active and there have been no marked fluctuations in prices. In certain markets advances have been made, but they are confined mostly to lines outside of the staple and are not large. Country dealers report an improved trade the last of the week. During the previous week and the first tew days of the one just passed, the roads were so bad that the farmers did not come to town and business dragged.

"Everything is in favor of an advance in the coffee market, yet prices seem to stay about the same place," said a coffee buyer for a local grocery house. "Receipts are small, the visible supply showing a decrease of 500,000 bags since March 1; consumption is enormous and the new crop is yet a long way off. Prices, however, show no prospect of declining, but hold firm."

Besides enjoining the mayor from signing the ordinance the order will prevent the railroad from octupying the street until the hearing on the application for an injunction, which will be held Tuesday.

Molasses is very quiet, the demand being exceedingly small. At the same time the offerings are light, especially in blackofferings are light, especially in blackstrap.

Raw sugars have advanced in the last week, but refined is unchanged. At the factories there is a steady stream of withdrawals, with some refineries urging buyers to complete their contracts. New business, however, is not in evidence. The market continues firm in tone in sympathy with the condition of the raw market. Refiners are not urging sales and are quoting a firm price based upon standard granulated at 1.50c.

Tomato Acreage to Be Smaller.

There is no change to report with regard to spot corn or tomatoes, except that the consumption of both is steadily growing. More interest is taken in spot corn than has been because of the fact that it is suing rapidly into consumption. The prices made on corn for future are making many packers hesitate about putting their money into goods another season and it is believed that the acreage will be very largely curtailed. Jobbers say that it will take heroic measures. The demand for tomatoes is they have had this year, and the larger packers seem determined to adopt those measures. The demand for tymatoes is growing materially, yet there is no appreciable change in the market. There is a disposition to stand for a little higher price, yet this higher price is hard to secure.

Dried fruit is moving very rapidly, the demand increasing day by day. Evaporated apples are more strongly held, many holders having advanced their prices ¼ of a cent per pound the past week.

The rice mills of the south held a meeting the past week to size up the situation on Japan rice. They give out the figures that the mills, since the first of the year, have sold on an average 185,000 bags of rice per month and that the available supply of Japan rices is only about 450,000 bags, or two and one-half months' ordinary supply. There are, however, six full months before the trade can get any adequate supply of mew Japans. Judging, therefore, from statistical position, it would not take a very heavy demand to further advance Japan rices ¼ to ½ of a cent per pound. Prices in rice are considerably firmer.

The week has been quite featureless with the Omaha jobbers. Trade has been fairly active and there have been no markets advances have been made, but they are confined mostly to lines outside of the staple and are not large. Country dealers report an improved trade the last of the week. During the previous week and the first few days of the one just passed, the roads were so bad that the farmers did not come to town and business dragged. Visiting dealers bring reports of spiendid prospects for the wheat crop.

Implement jobbers have been very busy filing second orders, which are heavy on seeders, disc harrows and drills. These to good are small in supply and are hard to get from the factories. The season is opening up remarkably well for harvesting and threshing machinery. Harvesters have been sold all spring to fill out cars and some carlot shipments have already been made. Numerous orders are being the week, said to be the record for the which one firm sold $17,000 worth during the week, said to be the record for the omaha market.

Will Be Presented to City Council Tuesday.

At next Tuesday evening's meeting of the city council Mayor Zimman will introduce an ordinance to provide for the submitting to the voters at the city election.

May 1, the question and proposition of issuing bonds of the city of Omaha in the Sarah Lovitt, Omaha.... sum of $45,000 for the purchase of a site and the construction thereon of a house of correction and workhouse for the detention and correction of city prisoners. A number of the councilmen have expressed themselves in favor of the workhouse project, which has been discussed in The Bee for some months.

It is believed the county commissioners may agree to grant a portion of the poor farm tract for the erection of the workhouse, in which event the cost of the institution would be materially reduced. Police Judge Crawford, who has been active in the agitation of this matter, is now confident the time is ripe for the carrying through of the project, which he and others believe is a pressing need at this
